3 Days Training Programme

28th - 30th JANUARY 2026

SCHOOL OF FOOD SCIENCE
&
TECHNOLOGY

MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM

ABOUT US

The School of Food Science and Technology is an emerging academic department at Mahatma Gandhi University, committed to provide advanced scholarly expertise in the disciplines of Food Science, Food Technology, Nutrition and Dietetics. The School undertakes a broad spectrum of research initiatives, including the development of novel food products, innovation in food processing and packaging technologies, sensory as well as instrumental evaluation of food quality, along with comprehensive microbial analysis to ensure food safety and excellence.

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

The Food Lab Pro 2.0 is designed to provide structured exposure to fundamental food analysis and basic microbiological testing methods. The programme focuses on developing a clear understanding of proximate analysis, food quality parameters and essential microbiological assessment techniques, helping participants to gain practical insight into food safety and analytical evaluation.

The laboratory is equipped with key instruments such as Spectrophotometer, Centrifuge, Distillation Unit, Freeze Dryer, Spray Dryer and microbiological facilities including Autoclave and Incubator to support scientific learning and analytical exposure.
